Digital photography for beginners can be confusing. Exposure isn't as simple as learning about aperture, shutter speed, and ISO. You also have to learn about how your camera looks at light. Metering modes are there to tell your camera how you want it to look at a scene. The picture below was taken on spot metering mode. If you were to take the same photo using the evaluative mode, you would end up with a completely different exposure.

@fuego6 Sigh. High level fine art photography created with serious effort from the photographer has never been a straight out of camera affair. The idea that post processing is new to digital or somehow makes an image "not real photography" just shows the ignorance on the part of the person who who holds such beliefs.
