Traditionally, the role of patients and their families has been one of passive “order takers”. Nowadays, many service providers are implementing a person-centred approach.

How to Create a Person-Centred Care Plan

To create the necessary therapist-client bond required by Rogerian person-centered psychotherapeutic treatment, the therapist listened actively to the client's account of her problems and feelings. In that regard, the therapist employed techniques such as repeating, paraphrasing, and rephrasing the client's perceptions to demonstrate understanding (Murdoch, 2008; Schmid, 2003).

Regulation 9: Person-centred care | Care Quality Commission
Requirements for treatment planning in the mental health and addictions fields are long standing and embedded in the treatment system. However, most clinicians find it a challenge to develop an effective, person-centered treatment plan. Such a plan is required for reimbursement, regulatory, accreditation and managed care purposes.
